

Achievers

20TH DELHI EDITION

MAGAZINE

CLUSTER OF ACHIEVERS

IMRAN SHAIKH
FOUNDER @PROFOUND CONSULTING

ASHNEER GROVER
FORMER DIRECTOR @BHARATPE

IMRAN SHAIKH

Profound Consulting

What key moment set you on your path to success?

The key moment that set me on my path to success was when I realized that businesses, no matter how successful, often struggle to sustain performance year after year. After achieving significant transformations in my corporate career, I knew I could help other organizations unlock their potential through a scientific and innovative business management approach. This was the inflection point that led me to embark on a journey of business consulting, aiming to bring radical improvements to companies' financial and operational performance.

What challenges did you face, and what triumphs stand out in your journey?

Transitioning businesses to adopt scientific and innovative management principles has been a pivotal challenge. Changing the mindset of top management and aligning teams towards shared objectives requires perseverance. However, my experience in leadership roles and my ability to drive teams has allowed me to overcome these challenges. One of my most significant triumphs has been successfully helping companies achieve radical improvements in both their financial and operational performance, which has been immensely rewarding.

What inspires you to excel in your field, and what values guide your actions?

I am inspired by the potential to improve people's lives through our services. My core values are integrity, perseverance, and a commitment to quality. These values guide my actions and decisions, ensuring that we uphold the highest

IMRAN SHAIKH

What key turning points or decisions shaped your path?

One of the most critical turning points in my career was transforming the topline of my corporate organization into bottom-line growth within four years—twice. This experience strengthened my conviction that every business has untapped potential, and by applying scientific management principles, radical change is possible. This was the moment when I knew I could replicate this success in other organizations, and it propelled me toward business consulting.

How do you encourage creativity and innovation in your work?

I encourage creativity and innovation by integrating a deep understanding of my clients' businesses with scientific thinking processes and cutting-edge methodologies such as Theory of Inventive Problem Solving, Theory of Constraints, Lean Six Sigma, and AI. These frameworks, combined with my practical experience, lead to remarkable turnarounds in client companies. Under my guidance, businesses have witnessed unprecedented growth in sales, profitability, cash flow, and overall stakeholder value, which reflects my commitment to fostering innovation.

Who has influenced your success, and how did they shape your journey?

Throughout my career, gaining and sharing knowledge has always been integral to my success. While I've been influenced by many individuals, I believe it wouldn't be fair to name just a few as many people have played a role in shaping my journey. The collective wisdom of the individuals and teams I've worked with has helped me refine my approach and continuously grow.